

THE TIMES MONDAY APRIL 5 1993

Police admit corruption to obtain convictions

BY IAN MURRAY

THREE chief police constables admitted to a "context." Charles Pollard, chief constable of Thames Valley Police, said he had been told by a senior officer that the police had been instructed to "obtain convictions" by any means necessary.