

ers back to life.
round 7,000 one-year-old non, artificially reared by the cise is part of a major habilitation of the river.

Evidence 'planted and embroidered'

Senior police admit officers bent rules

POLICE have occasionally bent rules to secure convictions, three of Britain's most senior officers admit in a BBC television programme tonight.

is the only way you can make the system work. If you didn't do it that way, you couldn't actually convict guilty people and that needed to be done."